Quality that you can see and experience.

A three-section property was constructed, which surrounds a beautiful park comprising water features. The organic structures of the buildings have varying heights and the apartments captivate visitors on account of their unique floor plans that vary greatly in shape and size. Almost all of the apartments have their own unique patios and all residents have access to large, attractively designed communal roof terraces, which are fully furnished and planted. On the ground floor there are walkways and alleys surrounded by a green space that is accessible to everyone, as well as a café and other small shops.

The building owners were just as consistent in their choice of shower walls for these exclusive flats: Collection 2 sets compelling standards due to its clear and harmonious structural aesthetics. A sensual and spiritual delight. An invitation to start the day in a joyous manner. It's the little things that make it special.

Sophisticated hinge technology, high-quality safety glass, swing doors that open inwards and outwards. Those are the technological characteristics of the frameless shower panel range Collection 2. Quality that you can see and experience. But it is not just the details that are well-thought-out. The installation options are almost limitless. Collection 2 features a wide range of variants, allowing it to be adapted perfectly to suit the bathroom, which proved to be enormously beneficial considering the fact that these apartments have unique floor plans.
